

Tour Group

When you give a tour, your audience is there not only to see what you are showing them, but also to hear what is being said. Unfortunately, sometimes the environment itself creates hearing difficulties. Outdoor, ambient noise and other voices can combine to make hearing a single tour leader remarkably difficult. By offering a Listen Tour Group system to your visitors, you help ensure that they receive the full experience they came for. Plus with features like a simple LCD readout and battery indicator, the system is not just easy to use, it is often an indispensable part of the tour.

Don't miss a single sound. Listen[®]
